

The move from a farrow to finish farm to a parity segregated system

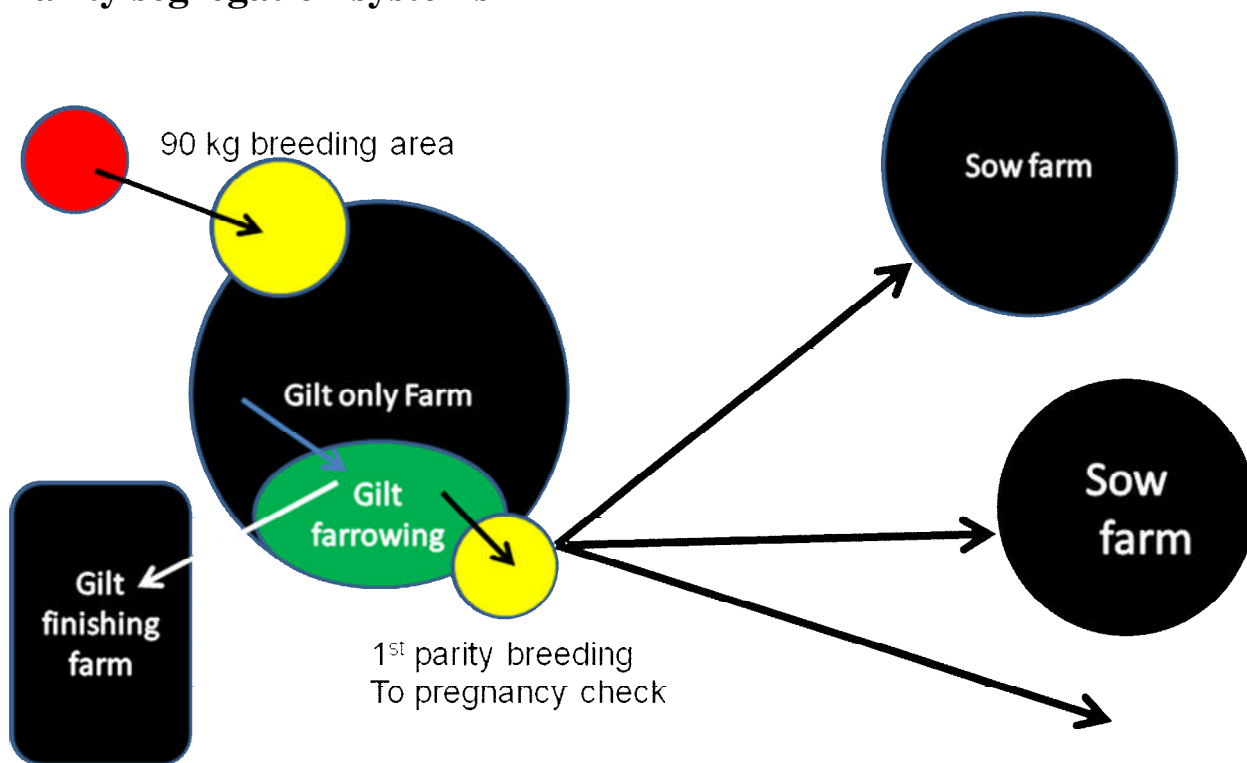

Mutisite production (company or cooperation)

This system is modified with the nursery, grower and finisher building being the same – a wean to finish facility.

Parity segregation systems

A parity segregated system offers the best biosecurity options. In addition, the fact that gilt offspring are generally weaker than multiparity sow's offspring, they should also be housed separately.